AN ACT

TO INCORPORATE THE W. I. SOCIETY

—OF—

Marietta College.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio:

That A. A. MORRISON, J. RANK, L. D. HILL, F. B. HOMES, and WILLIAM S. NYE, their associates and successors, are hereby made and constituted a body politic and corporate, by the name and style of W. I. SOCIETY, of Marietta College; and, as such, shall have all the rights, privileges, and powers, and be subject to all the restrictions provided in the "act to regulate incorporated literary societies," passed March 7, 1839.

SEC. 2. That the rights and powers hereby granted shall become inoperative, if the said society shall at any time neglect, for the space of five years, to use the same for the purposes hereby intended.

Signed, SEABURY FORD,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

WM. McLAUGHLIN,
March 20, 1841. Speaker of the Senate.

Introductory Remarks.

At the present time, the $\Psi.\ \Gamma.$ Society issues its first Catalogue. It is designed as a reference for those who have passed from College life, and also, for combining into a tangible whole the many items of interest which have hitherto been scattered, and accessible only by great labor and inconvenience.

To those whose names appear in the following pages and who have still treasured in their hearts the imperishable memories of Society life, our effort will commend itself without any remarks from us touching its value.

The organization of the $\Psi.\ \Gamma.$ Society dates in the year 1839, and the act constituting it a corporate body passed the legislature in the year 1841.

The early records of Marietta College chronicle the existence of but one Society, into which all the Students were admitted. The early history of this Society was happy and concordant; but dissensions inseparable from a society based upon such a plan, at length crept into the halls and arrayed parties against each other. The offspring of this rupture was the $\Psi.\ \Gamma.$ Society. The justness of the cause which resulted in its formation commended itself to the sympathy of the Students; and, conducted by the noble spirits, whose names are firmly cherished in every $\Psi.\ \Gamma.$ heart, the Society flourished beyond all expectation.

The influence of these founders of the Society has not been lost. The members have ever manifested the deepest interest in her welfare, and can point with pride to the many testimonials that mark their activity and generosity.

With an unselfish devotion, we have reared a hall that may challenge comparison with any other, both in respect to beauty of finish and complete adaptation to the purpose designed.

Our Library is well filled, containing nearly all the standard historical, theological, scientific and miscellaneous works of the day, numbering over three thousand volumes. The facilities which it affords the faithful student have not been neglected.

The Society is now twenty-one years old. Its children are scattered far over the world—some engaged in merchandising, some in farming, some in scientific researches, and others, still, in the field of Christ,—all we trust planting knowledge deep in the minds of others, and exhibiting the spirit of perseverance and honor which ever characterized them while active members of the Society.

The tale is told. If their endeavor meets the purpose designed, the editors are content and well repaid. Some such enterprise as this has long been in contemplation, but its fulfillment has been delayed so long as to make the labor of compilation arduous.

Many defects will probably be found. Many of our members departed from among us and left no marks by which we could trace them. These will confer a favor on the Society if they inform us as to their residence and occupations, and as to any errors respecting their own names or names of their acquaintances. In this way, our future editions may be perfected to a greater degree than the present one.
